

Heather Matranga is the Vice President of Impact Investments and Innovation at Village Capital, where she leads the organization's strategy for deploying capital into early-stage, high impact entrepreneurs. Heather has led several initiatives to unlock capital for impact-driven founders, including spearheading Village Capital's work in gender lens investing, innovative financing, and capital deployment.

Prior to joining the team, Heather worked as an attorney advisor for the Federal Emergency Management Agency, where she provided legal support to help individuals and state and local governments recover from disasters. Heather holds a J.D. from SUNY at Buffalo Law School, where she graduated Summa Cum Laude, and a B.A. in International Studies from Virginia Commonwealth University.